NO COMPLAINTS WILL BE OFFERED

At Method of Choosing The Officers of Primary.

Some Candidates Not Consulted But They Acquiesce in Action of the Committee.

OFFICERS AND THE PLACES

While there has been some quiet talk among candidates before the Democratic city primary, called for next Thursday, about the action of the committee in selecting the primary officers, no formal objection will be made so far as is known.

The officers were named by Chairman W. A. Berry, who submitted the list to the other members of the committee, and they ratified the list. The selections were made while the chairman was at Smithland. He returned Saturday.

He had called a meeting of the committee but was detained in the circuit court of Livingston county, and as time was pressing adopted this manner of choosing the officers.

Ordinarily candidates are consulted about the officials in the wards in which they run, but some of them, at least, were not let into the secret, which leaked out Saturday night.

The fact that a man, whom Judge Puryear held to the grand jury, is named as sheriff in one precinct led to inquiries. Judge Puryear said that while he was not advised until Saturday night of the action of the committee, he is satisfied the committeemen acted in good faith and he has the utmost confidence in Chairman Berry.

Judge Berry, ex-officio chairman of the committee, submitted the list to the other members of the committee, and they approved his selections.

The officers appointed for the various precincts are:

Precinct No. 1, Butler's sheriff, H. F. McGee; clerk, R. J. Wilson; judge, W. F. Goodman and J. D. Barryman.

Precinct No. 2, South Side first station—Sheriff, J. Marlon Clark; clerk, L. J. Cotheron; judges, W. D. Scott and John C. Sheehan.

ROSEY POSEY GIRLS ARE ALL STRANDED

But They Don't Blame Paducah a Bit.

They Tell Their Troubles to the Police at the Station and Fear No Evil.

PART OF THE CARNIVAL SHOW

Violet Moore, May and Mattie Lorraine, three girls of more than passing personal pulchritude, visited the city hall this morning with a tale of woe. They are stranded, but fear no ill results because they feel Kentucky hospitality will not let them suffer.

"We are the Rosey Posey dancing girls at the labor carnival, and the Earl Sisters are the vaudeville actors, singers and dancers. They too, are stranded. We had a contract to receive transportation back to Chicago and we did not get it. Other members of attractions are in the same boat with us, but three got positions on the Casino stage at Wallace park. They are acrobats and contortionists. We came to the city hall because we know the best thing to do is to tell your troubles to a policeman. We found a sure enough one when we ran across the big chief, Mr. James Collins."

"We are thinking about giving a benefit and if we do not find an angel to put us into home again, will have to resort to the benefit," they concluded. "Paducah is not such a bad town and we rather like it, except for our present condition. We do not blame the town, however."

DIES OF FRIGHT.

Young Woman at Home Meets Fearful Death.

Jackson, Tenn., Sept. 17.—Hemis was thrown into a fever of excitement early last night by a deplorable tragedy. About dark yesterday Mr. Shel Morton, an employee of the mill, returned home from Jackson in an intoxicated condition and began to raise trouble with his family, most of whom have been recently ill. Miss Lolly May, his daughter, aged about sixteen years, was so thoroughly frightened at her father's actions that she dropped dead. (The young girl, and her sister, Miss Lou who is about twenty years of age, were in a room together when Morton reached home. He entered the room where the two girls were and began to abuse and threaten the older one. Finally he struck her with a buggy whip. The younger girl began to intercede for her sister, but this seemed to enrage the father all the more. Finally, in an outburst of rage, he seized the older girl by the throat and the younger one, who had been lying on a bed, raised herself to her knees and tumbled off on the floor dead.)

NOT A BONE IN HIS BODY.

Brooklyn, Sept. 17.—Born without a bone in his body and absolutely helpless, Antonio Congro, who lived 21 years, is dead. From the day of his birth until death, Antonio never was out of his cradle. He could see, but could neither hear nor talk, and was powerless to move hand or foot, although perfectly formed.

TWO JAGS IN ONE DAY.

H. B. Bagby, of Mayfield, seemed to be having bad luck in Paducah. He was fined this morning for being drunk and released from court. It was less than an hour after he was discharged after paying the fine of $1 and costs, that he was arrested again. The load he carried necessitated the assistance of two policemen. Bagby lost his wheel during the ramblings of his first jag.

HEARST MAY BE INDUSED.

New York, Sept. 17.—Exhaustive inquiry indicates, as matters stand today that William Hearst's chances of securing the endorsement of the Democratic convention at Buffalo, are greatly improved. Even some of the strongest opponents admit that opposition is disorganized.

GRAND DUKES LEAVING.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 17.—A general exodus of Russian grand dukes from here set in following the death of General Treppoff, who was virtually director of Russia for months, owing to fear that fresh troubles are bound to break out.

FOLLOWED HUSBAND.

Wife Ends Life After He Commits Suicide.

Greenfield, O., Sept. 17.—Mrs. Wilbur Achor, whose husband shot and killed himself recently, killed herself last night by cutting her throat. She had been despondent since the death of her husband.

LITTLE HOPE

FOR RECOVERY OF CAPT. GEO. O. HART.

Well Known Hardware Dealer and Former Steamboat Man Is on His Death Bed.

Little hope is extended to the family of Captain George O. Hart, head of the firm of George O. Hart & Son, hardware dealers, and he is lying on, what is believed to be his death bed, at his home, 913 Jefferson street. He is 70 years old and suffering from a general collapse. While he seemed to be resting comfortably this morning, his attendants said he is gradually sinking and the end will come in a few days.

Captain Hart has been associated with Paducah business life since the close of the Civil war and nearly every hardware dealer in the city learned the business under the veteran merchant.

When Captain Hart first came to Paducah he was engaged in the steamboat trade, operating a packet line between Louisville and Memphis. He is a native of Pennsylvania but was raised in New Albany, Ind., where for a few years he conducted a drug store. An unusual talent for commercial work has made him prosper in every undertaking.

SUICIDE

ENDS TROUBLES OF EDWARD WARE, FORMER MERCHANT.

Drinks Wood Alcohol and Passes Away in Grocery at Fourth and Jefferson.

Edward Ware, 44 years old, bookkeeper in a tobacco warehouse, and son-in-law of the founder of the Maxon's mill, committed suicide this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by swallowing a dose of wood alcohol. He was found in a wagon yard at 416 Jefferson street by Charles B. Whittemore, of the firm of Rouse & Whittemore, and carried into their grocery at 400 Jefferson street. He died 30 minutes later.

He was administrator of the estate of his mother-in-law and was fined in the county court a few days ago for failure to settle at the proper time. He also was trustee of the estate of the Roberts children. It is believed he was financially involved and despondent. He leaves a wife and one daughter who reside near Maxon Mills.

Edward Ware once conducted a clothing store on Broadway between Third and Fourth streets. He was not a drinking man.

Ware was ruled to settle the Maxon matter in county court today. The amount involved is $1,100. He was in Wheeler, Hughes & Berry's office this morning.

RAILROAD SHOP STRIKE.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Sixteen hundred machinists and blacksmiths of the Wabash railroad struck today because their demands for an advance was refused. Four hundred quit at Springfield and 150 at Fort Wayne, Ind.

CARPENTERS' DEMANDS MET.

San Francisco, Sept. 17.—Carpenters' demands for $5 per day was granted by employers today and a strike avoided.

GOVERNOR BECKHAM SPEAKS IN PADUCAH ON OCTOBER THIRD.

Governor Beckham will be the first candidate before the state Democratic primary to speak in Paducah. A special from Frankfort announces that the governor will make an address in Paducah, October 3, at 8 o'clock at night. This is the night before the immigration convention, which the governor probably will attend, and during the horse show. Governor Beckham speaks at Mayfield tonight.

SPECIAL ELECTION MAY BE ORDERED

Rebels Say That Will End Insurrection Instanter.

Palma, It Is Said, Is Afraid of Investigation by Secretaries Taft and Bacon.

ARMY AND NAVY ARE READY.

Havana, Sept. 17.—According to a rumor given wide circulation today, President Palma will in a few days issue a call for a special election as the easiest solution of the present Cuban crisis. The rebels say such an act instantly will quell the insurrection.

There is abundant evidence that the government is anxious to reach a settlement with the insurgents in time to avoid searching inquiry of Cuban political affairs by Secretaries Taft and Bacon when they arrive. Such an investigation, it is hinted, would bring to light numerous skeletons which Palma prefers to keep hidden to avoid having some scandals of his administration aired. Palma, it is believed, will consent to make peace with the insurgents almost on any terms.

TABLE IS CUT.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—The navy department received information today that the cable between Clefuegues and Bermuda was cut on Sunday. Land lines are out of business. This cuts Clefuegues off from all America.

ARMY READY FOR FIELD.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 17.—Practically the whole United States army now in this country is ready to take the field in Cuba, while numerous vessels are ready to sail.

FIGHTING FRENZIED FUNSTON.

Washington, Sept. 17.—"Fighting Fred" Funston, now brigadier-general, who won his spurs in the Philippines, is on his way here tonight from Tacoma, Wash., under hurry orders to join Secretary of War Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon in Cuba. It is learned that during last night's conference with the president at Oyster Bay, discussion turned upon the question of who should be in military command in Cuba in case of armed intervention.

GOVERNMENT ON DEFENSIVE.

Havana, Sept. 17.—The government this evening made a strenuous effort to restore peace in Cuba and thus avoid American intervention. The object it is stated, is that it may be able to say when Taft and Bacon arrive that peace already is secured and therefore there is no need for the American government's action to restore peace or insure permanent tranquillity.

An extraordinary decree was issued signed by President Palma on recommendation of Secretary of Public Works Montalvo. The decree follows:

"All campaign operations are suspended and in consequence the government forces will act only on the defensive throughout the republic. The secretary of the interior will issue all necessary orders for the execution of this decree."

PEARLY MAY BE SAFE.

Backers Believe He Was Successful in Voyage.

New York, Sept. 17.—Those interested in the success of the expedition to the North Pole are expecting to receive news from Lieut. Robert F. Peary. It may be that the explorer has already attained the object for which the journey was undertaken. In that case he is likely to be heard from in the neighborhood of Labrador. If he has succeeded he would not be likely to have intruded any message to other vessels but would do this time be on his way to some port from which he could send the news. If he has not accomplished his object some word is likely to come from him by means of the whalers which come down to Dundee, Scotland, with the breaking up of the ice packs.

A wooden-legged candidate for the town council of Claston, England, urged his fellow artisans to elect him on the ground that a wooden leg in the council would be a pleasant variety among the wooden legs there.

GENERAL DORSZELWISZ SHOT.

Warsaw, Sept. 17.—General Dorszelwicz, president of the court-martial, while driving through Alexander Square today, was shot and severely wounded.

LOVING ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

Judge Reed Has Exhausted Every Possibility.

Jury Had Been Out Fifty-two Hours But Judge Would Not Dismiss Them for a While.

CASE OF GREAT INTEREST

H. H. Loying was acquitted at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The jury stood nine for acquittal and three for guilty, until the final vote.

Loving was dazed at first.

This morning the jury was brought before the court and reported that it had failed to reach an agreement. Deputy Sheriff Clark Fortson was again sworn and sent to the room with the jurors.

This afternoon Circuit Judge Reed suspended court at 2 o'clock, pending the arrival of a witness, who had been subpoenaed but failed to be present. While sitting outside the building he said: "There was plenty of time yet," when asked about the probabilities of a deadlock in the jury. He seemed inclined to hold the jury together for some time to come.

The jury has been out 52 hours.

The jurymen all sleep in one room at their hotel and eat at one table. They were observed of everybody as they walked to and from the court house.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.

Typical Mexican Banquet Served at the Palmer.

For the first time in the history of the city Mexican Independence day was celebrated in Paducah when on Saturday night Mr. Manuel Sanchez Marmol, a genial Mexican gentleman, royally entertained several of his Paducah friends with a banquet at the Palmer hotel.

Aside from the sewing master Mayor Yelser said he will have no communication to make.

The work on the sewer will be commenced as soon as the contractor can get ready.

The ordinance calling for an election on park construction bonds will be introduced tonight.

IV EXPENSES OF KITTY LEAGUE

Events Financial Success of The Association.

Ians Proposed for Cutting Down
Transportation and Increasing Attendance.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE CLOSES

It was again demonstrated during the season which has just come to a close, that a ball club in the Kitty League as it is now arranged, is not paying proposition and that while it is operated as in past seasons, it will ever will be, says the Vincennes Capital.

Too small receipts and too much expense in the way of salaries cause the loss each year. The mileage in the Kitty this past season was greater than ever before and there was no decrease in salaries. The Cairo and Paducah clubs were considered the highest salaried clubs in the league. No club with the probable exception of Mattoon, was within the salary limit. Vincennes on the average for the season kept within it, but not a dollar less.

With the exception of Jacksonville
every city in the league made a poor week-day attendance showing, and attendance at Paducah and Cairo
both Sunday and during the week day was almost a disgrace to the cities.
Paducah and Cairo probably played to not more than half what they drew in 1905. Danville started well but after the team took the fatal slump earlier in the season, there was a big falling off in the crowds. After the team again got to playing good ball there was a slight creep but not what there should have been. At Mattoon the crowds are disappointments. There was no excuse, however, for Mattoon, as the park was located about six miles from the city. Every club with the probable exception of Vincennes and Jacksonville lost money on the season and the profits of both together would scarcely have paid a man for his summer's work. Glad Vincennes not gotten away lucky in the sale of players, she would have finished $1,000 in the hole and as Jacksonville sold no players it is probable the season shows a deficit of over $1,000.

The league magnates are now looking for a remedy that will save the life of the organization. They realize that the circuit covers too much territory. Paducah, Cairo and Mattoon say they want to remain in the league, and Jacksonville, Danville and Vincennes will want to be represented in the league, but somebody will be found missing when next season's ball rings. Cairo and Paducah are no longer good baseball cities. Evansville and Terre Haute would be good cities and it would be no surprise to see them here although they will have to be forced out of the Central before they will try quits Paris, Ill., is a small city that wants into the league and Henderson and Princeton could be gotten back with a little encouragement. They would jump at the chance if Evansville and Terre Haute could be gotten in.

Local Situation.

There is a great deal of truth in what the Capital says, but when it talks about dropping Cairo and Paducah,
the Vincennes paper gets her logic mixed.

It would be more like Paducah and Cairo dropping Vincennes and some other. Vincennes is in the territory of two other leagues. The writer's reason why the season was a financial failure are excellent. Paducuh and Cairo would do better to take in Hopkinsville, Henderson and some of these surrounding towns, cutting down the mileage and condensing the territory so that town rivalry will be more keen.

Paducah should be in a league next year, and the city can be made to support a team. So, plans for bringing the fans into closer touch with sport should be devised. A good plan is to sell season tickets enough to insure the management against loss. It stands to reason that there are not sufficient men in Paducah with free time to attend a baseball game every afternoon two weeks at a stretch; but if those fans are eager enough to have the sport on these days they can attend, they should be willing to subscribe a little toward promoting the team. The chausauqua plan of constituting season tickets shares of stock is a good idea and might be tried, although it is doubtful if the fans would insist on having their tickets represent shares of stock. All they ask is to see the game.

ERRORLESS GAME RECORD.
In addition to carrying off the hitting and fielding honors of the league Cairo swiped the plum when it came to playing errorless games.
In all the Rats played twenty-four errorless games during the season.
Paducah with twenty to her credit, carried off second honors and Vincennes and Danville with eighteen each tied for third. Jacksonville went through fifteen games without errors while the best Mattoon could do was to pile up eight.

FOOTBALL RULES.
Within two weeks football teams
all over the country will be clashing.
Some drastic changes have been made in the rules this year. Those who made the changes believe that the game will be benefited but old football men fear the reverse. They say that the open play will result in more players being injured than ever.
Following the new rules:

Two umpires, a referee and a linesman will be the officials.

Then length of the game has been shortened by ten minutes.

The opposing rush lines will be separated by the length of the ball, which must be kept flat on the ground
by the center.

Linemen must have both feet,
both hands, or one foot and the opposing hand up to or within one foot of the line, and with the exception of the three center men the forwards must stand with both feet outside the one foot of the line, and with the both feet outside the outside foot of them and next to them.

IT is a source of great satisfaction to us to be able to offer to our patrons such a magnificent line of Heaters as we have secured for this season. And best of all, there is not a heater shown which has not been sold in Paducah for years. They're all old favorites--tried and tested; your friends and neighbors own them and can tell you about them--how economical, how efficient they are. Each heater has its own distinctive features. Some patented idea makes one or the other of these stoves just the one needed for your conditions. We want you to see our line and let us explain their merits.

ESTATE OAK

There is the Estate Oak, with its patented jointless ash box, molded all in one piece, absolutely air tight as long as the stove lasts, and holding a full twenty-four hour accumulation of ashes; its double strength single fire pot, its smoke curtain; its screw draft, register, effective hot blast attachment, etc.

The Radiant Estate

Is exclusively a hard coal heater of triple-flue construction. The heat is brought forward through the two outer flues and then passes back and out through the center flue. It has a very large radiating surface and fine draft regulation.

Be sure to see this Stove.

MOORE'S AIR TIGHT

Is substantially a small furnace, surrounded by an open ornamental casing. The stove proper is made of a few plain heavy castings, put together solely with the idea of producing the greatest possible amount of heat. There are numerous patent features of the Moore Heater which will appeal to you at once when you examine it.

Favorite Base Burner

Is probably the most satisfactory moderate priced heater on the market. It has a large ash receptacle and a liberal radiating surface. The draft registers being ground, gives you complete control of the fire.

You'll make a fuss over this stove.

THE ESTATE OAK RADIATOR
Is nothing more than an Estate Oak placed within an ornamental jacket. Easily kept polished. It makes a handsome parlor stove.

MAGNETIC POLE

DISCOVERED BY CAPT. AMUNDSEN, OF NORWAY.

Travels Through Northwest Passage and Arrives at Seattle—Much Work Ahead.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 17.—Captain Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the northwest passage, arrived here yesterday on the steamship Saratoga from Nome. He was met by a committee from the chamber of commerce and the local Norwegian societies.

Owing to a desire to reach the government observatory at Sitka to complete certain magnetic observations, Captain Amundsen's stay here was short. He said:

"My observations extend over three years and will take three years to calculate them out. Until that time it is utterly impossible to say positively what has been accomplished by the observations. I believe, however, that I have located the north magnetic pole. I cannot say whether it is a shifting point or extends over a large area. I took careful observations of the Aurora Borealis. The ob-

DISASTER

OVERTOOK MT. PELEE AFTER LAST ERUPTION.

ONSET ATTACHED SATURDAY NIGHT BY CENTRAL LABOR UNION TO COVER ITS EXPENSES.

It was a Mount Pelee disaster, sure enough, at the carnival Saturday night. The Central Labor Union attached the outfit and it is now in the hands of the sheriff awaiting disposition by the circuit court.

The attachment covers $1,600 advanced W. S. Layton, owner of the attraction. The union advanced him cash to cover transportation expenses and C. O. D. on his fireworks and equipment from Chicago to Memphis and from Memphis to Paducah. Layton was to bear half the expenses of lumber and material for erecting the exhibition at the hall park.

The outfit consists of a box of uniforms, scenery and properties.

FORECAST OF THE WEEK.

Cuba affairs will hold much interest this week. The visit of Secretaries Taft and Bacon to the island with the avowed purpose of bringing about a solution of the trouble is recognized as an event of much importance. They have been preceded and will be accompanied by a formidable land and sea force.

The representatives of President Roosevelt will reach the Cuban capital early in the week and within seven days it is expected that it will have been definitely determined whether an amicable settlement of the conflict can be brought about without further intervention by the United States. It is probable that upon the success or failure of these missions depends the immediate future of the new republic.

DR. WILL SCOTT MULLINS HAS OPENED HIS OFFICE.

Tuesday, primary elections will be held in New York, by both parties in the race will be close because of the contest between G. O. Boddy, present head of the state Republican organization, and Charles E. Murphy, head of the Tammany Democracy.

Opposition to Odell in New York city is being waged by Herbert Parsons who recently was endorsed by President Roosevelt. In Tammany the situation is more complicated. Murphy is fighting to lead but is opposed by Mayor McGovern, while the adherents of Congressman Timothy Sullivan have not yet been in a position to say whether the New York county delegates to the state Democratic convention are instructed for William R. Hearst.

William J. Bryan will continue his southern tour and will speak at Atlanta Thursday.

Seventeen candidates for places on the team to represent America in the international automobile race for the Vanderbilt Cup on October 6, will race over the 297-mile course on Long Island Saturday. The first five cars will compose the American team.

The convention of New Hampshire Republicans will be held at Concord Tuesday. There are five candidates for the gubernatorial nomination including Winton Churchill, the novelist.

FARMERS

WILL HOLD MASS MEETING SATURDAY, OCTOBER 13.

To Arrange for Entertainment of Delegates to Institute the Following Week.

The affiliated organizations in this district have a combined membership of 4,000 and as the program will be attractive and the meeting is well advertised, it is believed a large representation will be in attendance.

The McCracken county institute met yesterday in the office of Bonds & Powell, 302 South Second street, and talked over the plans for the big gathering.

The institute will be held in the Kentucky theater, all sessions being in the day time. The Paducah Commercial club is co-operating with the institute.

Daily Thought.

"It is not the number of books a man has read that makes him wise, but the number of ideas that have lodged in his head."

A WORD TO THE WISE.

All the "boosting" a paper gives a city; all the efforts of commercial organizations to build up a city industrially; all the expenditure of money, time and brains in devising means to attract strangers to a city and direct the current of suburban travel into its principal streets are designed to directly benefit but one class of citizens, the retail merchants. Wholesalers and jobbers can be benefited only indirectly by the increased sales of the retailers; the paper can reap a reward only after everybody else has enjoyed his share; the manufacturers benefit only as increased tonnage warrants better shipping facilities and rates;
and the real estate men, doctors, lawyers and workmen get only what the retail merchants leave.

Suburbanites attracted by better rates and quicker schedules come as a rule just to patronize the city retail stores. Excursionists spend their money with the retail merchants; large conventions, horse shows and such enterprises bring people to the city to patronize hotels and buy things from the city stores.

The Vincennes papers say as long as the KKK league is composed of the present cities the public will continue to be called on for donations. At least, there is where Paducah can boast. She has the only dyed-in-the-wool, dead-game sports in the league. The team lost money, but the association didn't call on the public for donations.

"Should married men flirt?" asks
a syndicate writer, and then proceeds to discuss the subject at length. Wasted advice. The right sort of married men always ask their wives' opinion on questions of propriety, and the other sort will flirt anyway.

Civil Actions.

against I. W. Bernheim the mandate

Kentucky and southern Illinois. The papers are devoting columns to it, the baseball association, which lost $3,000 during this year's season, has donated the grounds; the Paducah Light and Power company has been called on to furnish several hundred dollars worth of lights and wiring; manufacturers, wholesalers and professional men have contributed handsomely. But the Horse Show association has met with nothing but discouragement from the retail dealers.

The Retail Merchants' association has rules by which the members must be guided, to be sure; but the situation is critical and if the organization has a rule that is likely to hurt the city it should be abolished.
This exposition is not meant as a scolding; it is a warning. There are ominous growls of discontent from the men who have been digging deep into their pockets month after month for enterprises directly beneficial only to Broadway, and which Broadway is not helping. The Horse show this year will be a success, but maybe next year there will be no horse show and it will be the retail merchants who will suffer.

The Southwestern Kentucky Farmers' Institute and the immigration convention of the same section meet here next month. They will bring over 1,000 delegates to the city from a territory naturally belonging to Paducah's retail trade. Whether Paducah ever gets any more such conventions and whether these delegates go away with a good word for Paducah will depend largely on the response made by the retail merchants to the call for assistance in entertaining the visitors.

They inveigh loudly against people going on excursions because they fear Paducahans while away will patronize the stores of other cities,
to the detriment of the local trade.

If they fear Paducahans will spend money with retail merchants in other cities while on excursions, why do they not believe visitors to Paducah will invest their change on Broadway?

It was a worthy intended rule,
Gentlemen, to enable you with good countenance to ward off the charity hander and the fake public enterprise promoter; but it operates as a serious drawback to the city and your own trade, and should be amended.

THE SUN, THE BAROMETER.

The Owensboro Inquirer says:

The classified advertisements in a newspaper are interesting to philosophers as well as to about all other sorts of folks. But for a peculiar reason. The majority of the people are interested in want ads, because they personally want some of the things advertised, or because these little "sprigs of publicity" have repeatedly accomplished things for them. But your philosopher would look upon them as a barometer of the day's activities, plans, aspirations—of the people's unrest. Emerson expressed this idea when he wrote: "People wish to be settled but only so far as they are unsettled is there any hope for them."

So, to act upon this truth, a large volume of want ads., indicating an increased state of unsettledness, should indicate a full measure of "hope for the people."

Then The Sun is certainly the barometer of "the day's activities,
plans and aspirations" in Paducah.

An Assistant of Nature.

One of the most interesting things of this day of interesting things is the great success being achieved by osteopathy.

There is hardly a day that some curse which is deserving of attracting much attention, is not made by this new science, and the more it is studied, and the better it is known, the easier it is to see why it is so.

Osteopathy merely aids nature to cure.

It is a system of healing built up on demonstrable facts.

It discovers the cause of disease,
and treats it by scientific manipulations
in order to correct disorders and bring about a natural condition.

Nearly all diseases yield to the treatment, and the diseases local to Paducah do so most readily.

In rheumatism, liver and bowel,
or stomach troubles, chronic headaches, tired-out, run-down conditions, nervousness, its success has been very marked.

I should like to have you call to discuss your particular case at any time, and not only will I tell you frankly what osteopathy will do for you, but refer you to well-known Paducah people whom it has done much for.

the plea that Pollard put in.

Police Lt. Tom Potter testified that Pollard told him he slapped her.
"Do you want to change your testimony?" the court inquired.

"Now, sah," Pollard rejoined.

will be another warrant—one for

BROKEN WRIST

WILL KEEP BEN FRANK OUT OF HORSE SHOW RING.

Hurt by Colt at His Exhibition at Sharpe, Lost Saturday—Injury Serious.

Mr. Ben Frank, horseman, son of Mrs. Mary Frank, of South Ninth street, was seriously injured Saturday by being kicked by a horse at Sharpe, Marshall county, where he was giving a colt show. Mr. Frank was in Paducah today and had a compound fracture of his right wrist dressed.

He was showing off his horse, Highland Squirrel, Second, and started to lift up one of the horse's hind hoofs to examine it. The horse gave a vicious kick and struck the young man's hand. The bones snapped.

"I think the injury will not be permanent, said I regret it more for the fact that it will keep me out of the horse show here than the injury itself," he stated.

Mr. Frank was successful in the first horse show held here last year. He captured several prizes.

In the colt show at Sharpe, Saturday, the first event, for the best colt by Highland Squirrel, Second, the winners were: Joe Philley, Palma, Ky.; $10; George Dehaven, Calvert City, $5.

Second event: Best colt by any horse. The winners were: Joe Philley, first prize, $10; George Dehaven, second prize, $5.

RUSSIAN TYRANT DIES AT PETERHOFF

General Trepoff Succumbs To Natural Causes.

Great Leader of Reactionaries and of Terrorists Who Plotted in Vilna.

MAN OF PERSONAL COURAGE.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 17.—Gen. Trepoff, commandant of the Russian Imperial palace, died yesterday evening at Peterhoff of angina pectoris. He was regarded as the most cruel of the tyrannical of all the Russian autocracy and six times within the last three years attempts have been made to assassinate him. Czar Nicholas depended upon him, more than any other man, to put down revolutionary uprisings and the decisive manner in which he executed orders gave him the name of the empire's greatest oppressor.

Gen. Trepoff, whose name was linked with reaction and oppression in Russia, was in many respects a remarkable man. He was natural despot, a tyrant by inclination, education and conviction.

It was he who became the guiding spirit of the reaction after Nicholas II. had issued his famous manifesto in the fall of 1905, promising the people a share in the government. Holding the position of master of the palace, in league with the court intriguers who were determined to restore the old regime, he constantly had the emperor's ear.

Like his father before him, Trepoff was a police master with all that the name involved in Russia, and the story of father and son is full of dramatic incidents. The elder was a foundling. He was found one morning as a baby upon the back doorstep of a German family by whom he was taken in and playfully given the name of Trepoff (German for doorstep).

The father entered the Russian service as an agent of the famous Third Section, and distinguished himself as a member of the secret police. During the height of the nihilist conspiracies in the late seventies, it was to him that Alexander II. confided the task of unearthing and running down the terrorists plotting against his life.

Dintral followed his father's footsteps in the police department. He attracted the attention of Sergius, then governor general of Moscow, and the most reactionary of the grand dukes, and by him was named Police Master of Moscow.

Trepoff soon became Sergius' right arm in fighting the revolutionary student agitation of which the ancient capital was the hotbed. Trepoff's life was many times attempted, but he always escaped. When the Grand Duke Sergius was assassinated he was named Governor General of Moscow.

But at that time revolutionary agitation was rampant in the capital. Later Trepoff was summoned to St. Petersburg, given the command of the imperial guard and made governor general of the city. He took up his residence in the winter palace and became in fact, if not in name, Director of Russia.

Anarchy prevailed when he arrived. An uprising on a large scale was momentarily expected, and thousands had fled the city. But with Trepoff in the saddle the aspect of affairs changed. Troops filled the streets and dead walls were pattered with notices that the slightest disorder would be suppressed without mercy. And under his iron hand the city became quiet.

During those trying weeks plot after plot to kill him was discovered and frustrated. Two of his own sleekes were involved in the conspiracy.

His personal courage was beyond all question. He had almost a contempt for death.

The strain told upon him and during those memorable six weeks the lines on his face deepened, and his hair and beard became streaked with white.

Trepoff made a pretense of acing in the manifesto of October of that year and in Witte's favor to the premiership, but in reality he was only awaiting a favorable opportunity to give battle to the forces of the new regime. And when the orange of liberty, which followed the manifesto, was in full blast, and threatening to sweep away the foundations of the government, even Witte was glad to turn to the great police master to restore order.

He accomplished his task and was hailed by the reactionaries as the savior of the situation. The emperor was made to believe that Trepoff alone was capable of safeguarding the lives of himself and the imperial family. And so, with the press howling at his heels, he retired to Tsarsko Selo to become master of the palace.

Personally, Trepoff was at this time a handsome man of about forty-five years, tall, square-shouldered, with close-cropped hair and beard, his whole face and figure distinct with life and alertness.

TENT COLONIES FOR INSANE.

Improve Mental and Physical Condition of Illinois Patients.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 17.—The establishment at the various state hospitals for the insane of tent colonies for consumptive patients, with beneficial results, is noted in the quarterly bulletin just issued by the state board of charities.

The use of tent colonies at Waterford hospital for untidy, chronic and disturbed patients has been tried this summer with satisfactory results. These patients, who give hospital attendants the greatest concern, have been housed all summer in tents in woods near the main buildings, and the report of Superintendent Taylor says that "patients heretofore greatly disturbed have become quiet, they sleep well, their appetites are ravenous, and all but one have discontinued their untidy habits."

The tent colony for consumptives at the Bartonsville asylum has shown that the per capita cost is $50 a year, and that the patients improve.

The report shows the gross per capita cost during the quarter ending June 30 was $39.56 and the net $36.16.

FAMILY POISONED EATING ICE CREAM

Mrs. D. W. Coons' Life Depaired of Sunday,

Mr. and Mrs. Coons and Miss Palmer ate Ice Cream Late Saturday Night.

ALL OUT OF DANGER TODAY

Poisoned by eating ice cream Saturday night, D. W. Coons, secretary of the Commercial club, Mrs. Coons and the latter's sister, Miss Susie Palmer, lay in almost mortal agony yesterday, while physicians worked with them. Not until 11 o'clock last night was Mrs. Coons pronounced out of danger. All of them are ill this morning, but on the road to recovery. Secretary Coons was able to be in his office today.

Mr. Coons purchased ice cream at a store Saturday night and carried it home about 10 o'clock. The party ate the cream and retired, sleeping well. Late yesterday morning they all became violently ill, and displayed symptoms of poisoning. Their suffering was so acute, that they sent for Dr. Bradley.

He at once recognized the symptoms and administered enemas and antidotes. The doctor is certain it was the ice cream which produced the illness.

Mrs. Coons was much the worst patient and it was feared all through the day that she would die. However, late last night she rallied and is now out of danger.

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Two Grateful Letters from Women Who Avoided Serious Operations.—Many Women Suffering from Like Conditions Will Be Interested.

Margrile Ryan Margaret Merkley

When a physician tells a woman, suffering from female trouble, that an operation is necessary it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart. As one woman expresses it, when told by her physician that she must undergo an operation, she felt her death knell had sounded.

Our hospitals are full of women who are there for just such operations!

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but such cases are much rarer than is generally supposed, because a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after the doctors had said an operation must be performed.

In fact, up to the point where the knife must be used to secure instant relief, this medicine is certain to help. The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who, by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, have been cured of serious operations.

Margrile Ryan, Treasurer of St. Andrew's Society, Indianapolis, Ind., writes of her cure as follows:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"I cannot find words to express my thanks for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did me. The doctor said I could not get rid of the trouble except by an operation. To my surprise, however, I knew I could not stand the strain of an operation and made up my mind I would be an invalid for life. Hearing how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured so many women, I decided to try it.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been curing the worst forms of female complaints, all functional troubles, inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement, weakness, irregularities, indigestion and nervous prostration. Any woman who could read the many grateful letters on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office would be convinced of the efficiency of her advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The Bath Comedy

By AGNES and EGERTON CASTLE

Authors of "The Pride of Jennie"

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY EGERTON CASTLE

When he returned to Pierrepont street he found the mysterious stranger already in her sedan, Lord Verney leaning through the window thereof engaged in an earnest whispering conversation. Captain Spivey jocularly pulled him back by the coat tails and inserted his own foolish face instead. The lady was masked and blushed as he had left her.

"Madam, I have done your errand," said he. "It was," said he, "a matter of difficult negotiation, requiring—them—requiring such tact as I think I may call my own. Sir Jasper was vastly pleased; one might as well have tried to reason with a bull. 'But, sir,' said I, 'would I, Captain Spivey, come with this message if it were not in accordance with the strictest rule of honorable etiquette?' That doored him, madam."

Here Mistress Kitty snapped the petticoat flickering in his gesturing hand with scathing ceremony, turned her shoulder upon him, read it and turned it out to Lord Verney, who had lost no time in coming round to the other window.

"Now," said she, "bid the men take me to the pump room." She leaned her head out, and Lord Verney put his close to hers, and there followed another conclusion.

"Madam, madam, I demand the fulfillment of your promise?" from the other side came Captain Spivey's clamoring thin voice. "Verney, my good fellow, I must request you to retire. There is a compact between this lady and me—"

"A compact?" said the mask, turning her head.

"Oh, madam, the vision of that entrancing countenance!"

He strove to unfasten the choir door, when "What?" cried she, "and rob you of all the charm of uncertainty and all the joy of guessing and all the spice of being able to take away the character of every lady in Bath! Oh," she said, "I hope I have been better taught my duty to my neighbor!" But went her head again to Lord Verney; there was another whisper, a silver laugh. "Oh, mean!" she cried.

Lord Verney skipped round and in his turn dragged the disconsolate captain out of the window and restrained him by main force from running after the retreating châtelaine and their fair burden.

CHAPTER X.
DIED MARKHAM was a person of indefinite age and indefinite manners. He wore an ill fitting wig, but he had a high reputation as a man of honor. He sat beside Sir Jasper on the front seat, while on the back seat sat Tom Stafford; and the carriage sped cheerfully along the up and down Bath streets out into the country building with green, down, down, the hill to Hammar's fields by the winding Avon. Sir Jasper's face bespoke great dissatisfaction with life at large and with his own existence in particular. Tom Stafford was beginning to feel slightly bored.

"It's an early spring," said Lord Markham, in the well meant endeavor to beguile away the heavy minutes and distract his principal's mind. "This very mild winter for the time of year, and the lambs are forward."

"Ugh!" said Sir Jasper.

"Speak not to him of lambs," whispered Stafford. "Do not you see he is fit for blood and thunder?"

Then he added mirthlessly: "There is but one animal in the whole fauna that Sir Jasper takes no interest in at present, and that's not easy, it seems, to find in these purloins, though we know it does harm them; 'tis the red deer!" He chuckled, vastly delighted with the conceit.

"Let us hope we shall not have rain," said Lord Markham; "these clouds are menacing."

"They will hold up for half an hour, enough to serve our purpose," growled Sir Jasper, and tipped the horses with the lash so that they spurned the slope.

"But we shall get wet returning," pleaded the well meaning earl. "I add so all along. 'Twould have been better to have gone in a coach."

"I vow," cried Sir Jasper, with a sudden burst of spleen—"I vow that I have it in my heart to wish that Villiers' ball may speed so well that I may feel neither rain nor shine coming home again. Home again," said he, with a withering smile. "Blast it, a pretty home indeed be!"

"And a pretty cheerful fellow you are to bring out to a merry meeting," snoot Stafford from the back, "and a sleek pair of fools you and the colonel be, plague on you both! And when you're shot 'twill be a fine satisfaction to think that your wife can confide herself with the owner of the red curl, eh? What are you going to fight old Villiers about, I should like to know?"

"You do know," growled Sir Jasper. Then he exploded. "You gone me, sir. Do I want to fight Villiers? Is not this oneness the merest fooling, sheer waste of time, when the real fellow—willful—has eluded me?" His hold on the reins tightened, he laid on the whip, and the carriage swayed as the horses leaped and plunged.

"Honky," said Lord Markham. "It is altogether irregular. I decline to have anything to say to it."

Sir Jasper remained standing gloom-

Hello! Morning, colonel."

man, for the capital jokes you have provided of late. Strike me ugly if the old fellow has not come—in a bath chair!"

"Really," said Lord Markham, "this is very irregular, I have never before been privy to a duel where one of the combatants fought in a chair. And I am not sure that I can undertake the responsibility of concluding arrangements in such circumstances."

"Blasted nonsense!" said Sir Jasper, with all his former urbane of demeanor. He flung the reins to his man as he spoke and clambered down from the carriage. Stafford had gone before him to the gate and was now stamping from one foot to another in exquisite enjoyment of the situation.

"Ha, ha, ha! Hello! Morning, colonel. Sorry to see you this way! Ha, ha! Have you brought another bath chair for our man? Oh, come, yes! You'll be fair if he do not sit in a bath chair too! Say, Fouiks, you wheel one chair, I'll wheel the other, and we will run them out at the other and let them die as soon as they please, ha, ha, what a joke!"

Colonel Villiers turned upon his voluntary friend a countenance the color of which presented some resemblance to a well defined bruise on the third day. It was yellow and green with pain where it was not purple with fury.

"Mr. Stafford, sir, these jokes, sir, are vastly out of place. Curse this foot! Mr. Fouiks, have the kindness to explain. Major Topham, explain to these gentlemen that I have come out to fight, sir, and that fight I will, by the living Jingo!"

He struck the arm of the chair in his fury, gave his suffering foot a nasty jar and burst into a howl of rage and agony.

"Stole me," said Stafford. "I'd as soon fight an old bear! Whisper, Fouiks, is he going to shoot his rage—he's pardon, I mean his chair?"

"Such is his intention," said Mr. Fouiks, grimacing nervously as he spoke and showing the act of fine Bond street ivory already referred to by Mr. Stafford. "But it strikes me it is somewhat irregular."

"Somewhat irregular?" ejaculated Lord Markham. "It is altogether irregular. I decline to have anything to say to it."

Sir Jasper remained standing gloom-

ly looking at the ground and driving his gold headed umbrella into the soft mud as if all his attention were directed to the making of a row of little tunnels.

"What is the difficulty? What is the difficulty?" bellowed Colonel Villiers. "You wheel me into position and you mark the paces, eight paces, Fouiks, not a foot more, and you give me my pistol. What is the difficulty? Blast me! Blot you all, I say! What is the difficulty?"

"The combatants will not be equal," suggested Major Topham. "I told Villiers that I will gladly take his place."

"No, no, no!" screamed the old man, turning round, and then, "Obl!" cried he, and screwed up his face. And then the gout had him with such fury that he gripped the arms of his chair and flung back his head, displaying a ghastly countenance.

"I remember," champed old Fouiks, the dear Duke of Darlington insisted upon digging Basil Verney (that's Verney's father, you know) with his left arm in splints, but as my Lord Marquess of Cumbroke, his grace's second, remarked to me at the time?"

"Oh, spare us the marquis!" interrupted Stafford breathily. "Let me keep to the business on hand, if you please. The whole thing is absurd, monstrous! Look here, Jasper, look here, colonel, you two cannot fight today. How could you be equally matched even if we got another bath chair for Jasper? We cannot give him the gout, man, and 'twould be too dashed unfair. Colonel, you would shoot too well or too ill; 'tisn't dot! Come, come, gentlemen, let us make a good business out of our fight. Why should you fight at all? Here's Jasper willing to apologize. (Yes, you are, Jasper. Hold your tongue and be sensible for once. You pulled off his wig, you know. It was not pretty behavior—not at all pretty.) But, then, colonel, did not you think you had cut him out with his wife, and was not that a compliment? The neatest compliment you'll ever have this side the grave! He was jealous of you, colonel. Faith, I don't know another man in Bath that would do you so much honor nowadays!"

"Oh, take me out of this!" cried the colonel, suddenly giving way to the physical anguish that he had been straggling against so valiantly. "Zounds, I will fight you all some day! Take me out of this! Where is that Bristol stone, my servant? Take me out of this, you devil!"

Between them they wheeled his chair into the road, and his screams and curses as he was lifted into the couch were terrible to hear.

"Lord, if be could but call out the gout!" cried Stafford. "Well, Jasper, what did I say? No duel today."

"The no make so sure of that!" said Sir Jasper. He was moving toward the currieule as he spoke and turned his sinister face over his shoulder to his friend.

"Obl!" cried the latter, and fell back upon Marquess, "the fellow's look would turn a church full of cream! No, I will not drive back with ye, thank ye, Sir Jasper; I will walk," said Stafford. "I don't mind a little jealousy in reason myself, and if a husband has been given a pair of horns I don't see why he should not give somebody a dig with them, but if I were to drive home in that company I'd have no appetite for dinner. Come, gentlemen: 'tis a lovely day; let us walk." So Sir Jasper rolled home alone, and, as his companion observed a little later, as he helped to unharness the sweating horses, "Drove them cruel."

CHAPTER XI.

LADY STANDISH was one of those clinging beings who seem morally bound physically to be always seeking a prop. Before university she was prostrate, and when his lordship the bishop of Bath and Wells was ushered into her sitting room, half an hour after Sir Jasper's departure for Hammar's fields, he found the poor lady stretched all her length upon the sofa, her head buried in the cushions.

"Dear me," said his lordship, and paused. He was a tall, portly, handsome gentleman, with sleek countenance, full eye and well defined waist coat. Could human weakness have touched him, he would have felt a bridle in those legs which so roundly filled the silk stockings. But that human weakness could never affect the bishop of Bath and Wells was a thing that diggity (and he gave his Maker thanks for it) felt to be utterly inconceivable.

"Lady Standish," said the bishop; then he waved his hand to the curriole servants. "Leave us, leave us, friends," said he.

Lady Standish reared herself with a sort of desperate heartsickness into a sitting posture and turned her head to look directly upon her visitor.

"You come too late," she said; "my lord, Sir Jasper has gone to this most disastrous meeting."

"My dear Lady Standish," said Dr. Thurlow, "my dear child." He took a chair and drew it to the sofa and then lifted her slight bairn hand and held it between his two plump palms. "My dear Lady Standish," pursued he, in a purring, soothing tone. If he did not know how to deal with an afflicted soul, especially if that afflicted soul happened to belong to the aristocracy and in preference habited young female body, who did? "I came upon the very moment I received your letter. I might perhaps have instantly done something to help in this matter had you been more explicit, but there was a slight incoherence—very natural! Here he patted her hand gently. "A slight incoherence which required explanations. Now tell me, I gather that your worthy husband has set forth upon an affair of honor, eh? Shall we say a duel?"

Lady Standish gave a moaning assent.

HEPBURN MEASURE MAY BE IMPROVED

Interstate Commerce Commission Behind Move.

Difficulty in Constraining Some of the Provisions Occasion the Suggestion.

TO EQUALIZE COTTON RATES

Washington, Sept. 17.—Representative Hepburn of Iowa and Senator Elkins of West Virginia are in Washington, and they met John Sharp Williams, minority leader of the house, during the lunch hour.

Senator Elkins is chairman of the senate committee on interstate commerce. Representative Hepburn is chairman of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce. These are the committees from which the railroad rate bill was reported last winter. Mr. Williams, as Democratic leader, was a prominent factor in making the arrangement by which the rate bill was passed through the house with practically no opposition.

Col. Hepburn had a long conference with some of the members of the interstate commerce commission concerning certain possible changes in the Interstate law. Asked about this conference later, Col. Hepburn admitted that it had taken place, and very frankly told its purpose.

"There will doubtless be some effort to improve the rate law at points where improvement seems needed," said he.

Some surprise will be occasioned by the practical announcement that already the Interstate commission is asking changes in the new law. It is known, however, that some of its provisions have been difficult of construction. The railroads have asked the commission to tell them what these mean, and the commission has declined to take the responsibility. "Go and ask your lawyers," has been the ultimatum of the commission. The fact that there is to be something like an administrative bill for further amendment of the rate law will give new importance to the coming short session.

Equalize Cotton Rate.

Washington, Sept. 17.—The Interstate commerce commission today rendered its decision on the petition of the Southern railway and other carriers operating in the territory east of the Mississippi river and south of the Ohio and Potomac rivers, for permission to equalize export rates on cotton, cottonseed and its products, and lumber, and thereby make changes in their export rates on these commodities without the thirty days' notice required by the new rate law.

The commission holds that carriers may legally issue through bills of lading from the interior point of shipment to a foreign destination which specify the interest and rate to the port of export, even though no joint through rate is published.

The commission orders that "no published rates on cotton shall be advanced except upon thirty days' notice."

Stafford, for instance, has heard the two shots and gave me the names of several who he thinks heard them. This afternoon I will look after it for the boy. It is his only means of establishing the plea of self-defense, with the recovery of the pistol he alleges he took from Bass in the fight."

ENORMOUS VALUE OF UTILIZED WASTES.

"Thirty years ago for every ton of finished product turned out by our manufacturers there was from one to several hundred pounds of materials which were thrown away as waste. Not only was this so-called waste-material considered valueless, but the disposition of it was often a source of considerable expense and annoyance to the manufacturers. Owing to the wonderful progress of chemical knowledge during the last quarter of a century, and the constant finding of new revelations and uses for substances of all kinds, complete revolution has been wrought in nearly every branch of the manufacturing industry. Instead of this waste material being a source of expense to manufacturers, the experiments of chemists have shown how it can be converted into products which have a high marketable value, and it is no exaggeration to say that the value or products annually manufactured out of materials which thirty years ago were thrown away as waste today amounts to fully $500,000,000—a sum equal to nearly seven times the annual production of gold in the United States."—Henry C. Nicholas in Moody's Magazine for August.

Moving Pictures.
It is the real merit that has made Lyman H. Howe's Lifeorama one of the most successful amusement institutions. Acting on the conviction that the public has been surprised and bored by senseless and indifferently produced pictures with no set purpose, Howe has given his Lifeorama a character all its own. In the new program, more than ever, he gives his audience scenes which not one in a thousand has ever seen before. It will be presented at The Kentucky theater tonight.

Vaudville at Casino.
Vaudville and moving pictures will be the attraction at Wallace Park Casino all this week. Manager William Malone has taken advantage of the good weather and secured an excellent show, prolonging the season a few days.

People and Plays.
Clyde Fitch's play founded on Mrs. Edith Wharton's novel, "The House of Mirth," will receive its premiere in Detroit tomorrow evening with Miss Fay Davis as Lily Hart.

Mr. Mansfield will restore the Russell play, "Roddon the Student," which he has not presented for a decade, to his repertory this season.

Diversified Views.
Concerning Howe's pictures the Baltimore Sun says:

The preliminary season of entertainment at Ford's open house, anticipating by one week the regular theatrical season, beginning September 3, opened yesterday afternoon and night with the presentation by Mr. Lyman H. Howe of an interesting series of moving pictures. That "action speaks louder than words" is proved by the scenes depicted by Mr. Howe. These include events of international interest interspersed with little comedies and stories told so graphically by action natural sound and color as to render speech unnecessary. Science and mechanics combine to present such a realistic setting to the pictures as to make the program a wholly enjoyable one.

The view of Mount Vesuvius showed the mountain in fiery eruption and with molten lava flowing down its sides, were among the finest pictures on the program.
